Memorial bell tower being built at Gould

Jack Greig '59 used his backhoe to break ground for Gould Academy's new memorial bell tower. The tower will be built this summer with the help of Gould alumni and friends and will be dedicated to the memory of Jane Greig Barth '59 on Sesquicentennial Alumni Reunion Day, Oct. 4.

Eric Wight '59 is the overall coordinator of the project, with Rolie Glines, of Bethel, supervising the actual construction. The bell tower was designed by Harlan Hutchins '34, of Bethel, and will house the old school bell that once hung in the academy building. When the present Hanscom Hall was constructed, the old academy building was torn down and the bell was stored away.

Now, thanks to the efforts of many who will contribute materials, labor and ideas, the bell will ring out once again over the Gould campus.

Sudbury Canada Days held in grand style before storms strike

Partially sunny skies greeted visitors to the 7th annual Sudbury Canada Days, the Bethel Historical Society's summer heritage festival, on Saturday, Aug. 9. Held in the society's headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House (1813) and adjacent grounds, this year's event attracted several hundred people to a variety of old-time pastimes, celebrating the heritage of the past. (Sudbury Canada was Bethel's original name, in use from 1768 to 1796, when the town was incorporated as the 107th municipality in the then-District of Maine.)

The day began with the annual children's parade, supervised by Mary Gillies. Marshal for the event was Jim Anderson, in his Black Watch uniform, accompanied by drummer David Kersey. The theme this year was "Heroes & Heroines" and participants were judged in four categories by judges Amy Davis, Marybeth Bayerlein and Society Vice President Marvin Owning.

In the "Cleverest" category, first prize went to Rosie the Riveter, portrayed by Leah Bonema; second prize winner was Joan Benoit (Alexandra Gillies); third prize to Johnny Appleseed (Steven Greenleaf). The "Funniest" award went to Elizabeth Kuzik, as the clown Emmett Kelly; second prize (again as an Emmett Kelly) Paige Brown, third to Molly Ockelt, portrayed by Emily Courage. "Prettiest" award was made to Jamie Grover, who participated as Shirley Temple, followed by Verina Robiller as an Old-Fashioned Girl, and Pochantans, played by Karen Wheeler.

Directors' meeting

The board of directors of SAD #44 met in regular session in the library at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week.

The directors ratified the 1986-1988 agreement between the SAD #44 Board of Directors and the T.E.A. School Secretaries and Teachers Aides. The financial package contained in the agreement for the 1986-87 school year represents an increase of slightly less than 6 percent over the preceding year. The wages section for the second year of the agreement is to be reopened for negotiation at an appropriate future time. The board approved the continuation of the A.F.S.C.M.E. Boise calling new workers as talks stall

At the urging of Governor Brennan, Boise Cascade agreed to hold off hiring new workers Monday and sent negotiators to Augusta to talk with union officials about a new contract. However, after an afternoon and an evening of talking with the federal mediator, the state personnel commissioner and union officials failed to produce any result, Boise management yesterday (Tuesday) began offering the jobs of striking paperworkers to potential replacements.

A Boise spokesman said the replacements could be in the mill before the end of the week. He declined to say how many will be called or exactly when they would show up.

Spokesman Sam Donaldson said, however, "This will be a sizeable group." He indicated that the replacements could take nearly half the jobs of the 1,200 striking paperworkers. The paperworkers—Local #900 of the United Paperworkers International Union—have been on strike since July 1, when they declined to extend the duration of their contract for 10 days to allow negotiations on a new contract to continue.

With no talks going on, Boise unilaterally declared their final offer to the union to be implemented. It calls for flexibility in job assignments, reduction of holiday and Sunday overtime pay, and it holds in abeyance those clauses dealing with union membership, dues checkoffs, strikes and lockouts.

Going into the Augusta talks, in which the Boise team and the union team talked separately with the federal and state officials, Boise spokesman Andrew Drysdale indicated the company would not bow to federal or state pressure to sweeten its offer to the union. "We implemented a new contract. It's the best offer we could give folks. They're not going to get a better offer."

But as the talks dragged into a second continued on Page Two

Lake Umbagog hydro project has few backers

About 75 concerned people at Andover town hall last Thursday night gave a cool reception to officials of an engineering company explaining how they proposed to re-direct waters from Richardson Lake to turbine generators to make electricity.

Officials of Swift River/Hafslund Co., of Danvers, Mass., and Portland, explained that their project—if deemed feasible—would divert as much as 1,400 cubic feet per second of water, which currently flows from Richardson Lake to Lake Umbagog through the Rapid River, into a tunnel that would carry it to a set of turbines before Umbagog. The turbines would produce 20 megawatts of electricity, which would be sold to power companies in Maine, New Hampshire or Massachusetts. (For comparison, Maine Yankee produces 850 megawatts.)

Swift River/Hafslund's project manager, Marc Auth, told The Citizen the Umbagog project is the most ambitious project the company (a joint venture between Swift River Co., of Massachusetts, and Hafslund A.S., of Norway) has ever undertaken.

The audience that showed up for the informational meeting, set up by the company, was mainly composed of fishermen, boaters, camp owners, environmentalists from Audubon and other groups, and residents of Andover and Upton. State Rep. Jeff Mills (D-Bethel), was also present. They were generally unimpressed by the argument of company officials that the project would be good for the company and not harmful to the environment.

Project manager Auth would not disclose what the project is expected to cost, but public speculation has ranged in the neighborhood of $30 million. The three-year feasibility study, which is just getting underway following issuance of a permit last month by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, will cost about $300,000, according to sources.

The project envisions having an inlet below the waters of Richardson Lake to draw water into a tunnel to be cut through Corey Ridge. The 17-foot diameter tunnel would course the water to a turbine house that would produce the electricity, after which the water would be dumped into Lake Umbagog to continue its way towards the Androscoggin. Swift River/Hafslund attorney Angus King told the audience: "It's the same water, the same flow—it just means it's going to go through the gates (of the turbine housing before getting to Umbagog)."

What angered fishermen and boaters alike, was that the flow in the Rapid continued on Page Two

Opinions

An outpouring of concern

The outpouring of concern by citizens of various persuasions over the plan of a Massachusetts-based company to harness the waters of the Rapid River for producing electricity surprised and angered company officials who held an informational meeting in Andover last week to address concerns about the project.

The officials said the citizen concerns were frequently ill-founded. They said much of the press attention was based on misinformation or disinformation.

The officials explained that they did not want too many individual intervenors against their expected permit request to the federal government because it would cause a logistical problem keeping all the intervenors informed.

A Lake Richardson summer resident retorted angrily, "If you're going to take water out of our lake, we have a right to be intervenors."

Water and water rights have seemingly forever played havoc in relations between people and between groups of people. This is not particularly surprising, since it is the presence of water on planet Earth that makes our planet distinctive, that provides the basis of life.

While the company seeking to use the water of the Rapid River for producing electricity still has years of study and permit request hearings to go through, it is not too early to consider some basic questions: •Should the desire for electricity on the part of society take precedence over society's desire for recreation?

•Should the desire of private enterprise for profits take precedence over the desire of private individuals for unspoiled surroundings?

It is possible that all desires can be fulfilled. But this is not likely. And so, a matter that must be considered very closely during the three-year study period granted by the federal government is not just to determine if the project is "do-able" but to determine what course of action (including doing nothing) would bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people (and other living creatures). bfw

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

agreement concerning a 43½-hour work week of 10 employees until Aug. 31, 1987.

William Graham, of Bethel, was present to discuss a grant that has been awarded to assist in the promotion of writing skills for students 4 to 14 years of age. SAD #44 will receive $5,000 in each of the next three fiscal years (1987, 1988 and 1989) from the Bread Loaf School of English at Middlebury (Vt.) College. The Bread Loaf Writing Grants Program is underwritten by a $1.5 million grant to the Bread Loaf School of English from the William Bingham 2nd Trust for Charity. Locally the funds are to be used for the provision of additional materials to carry out the publishing of stories and support the language activities that go with the writing process.

Cathy Newell advised the directors of progress to date of plans to utilize the "public access" channel of the Bethel Cablevision system.

The following board goals were approved for the 1987-88 school year:

- That the board develop a means which will improve the communication between the school board, the staff, and the greater SAD #44 community.
- That the board develop a means whereby they will become more aware of the concerns of the general public during the annual budget process.
- To improve the efficiency of the school board in relation to: committee meetings, executive sessions, and regular board meetings.
- That the board oversee the completion of the outlined K-12 Curriculum Review program and the student testing program by 1989.
- That the board reaffirm its commitment to improving academic standards beyond minimum competencies and to challenge students beyond mediocrity.
- That the board reaffirm the district's commitment to positive student behavior as a prerequisite to a positive learning environment.
- That the board oversee the completion of the new Woodstock School building project by the spring of 1987. That the board will proceed with the proposed addition to Crescent Park School in a timely manner.

A transportation contract between the Northern Oxford Vocational Area (NOVA) and SAD #44 for the 1986-87 school year was approved. First reading approval was granted to changes in the Student Discipline Policy, Extra-Curricular Rules and Regulations, as well as to a "Student Search Policy."

The board rescinded the July 14 appointment of Laura Shea, of Portland, as a grade 6 teacher at Woodstock Elementary School for the 1986-87 school year. She has accepted a position elsewhere.

The following staff resignations were accepted by the board: Mrs. Terry Merrill, grade 4, Woodstock; Mrs. Susan Kane, grade 4, C.P.S.; Mrs. Martha Tripp, grade 3, Woodstock; Mrs. Gemma Morrill-Dreher, non-instructional aide, Telstar; Mrs. Joan Howe, school secretary, C.P.S.; Mrs. Ann Roy, food service worker; Harry Stevens, bus

Road work in Newry

Road Commissioner Marshall Fleet met with the Newry Board of Selectmen yesterday morning at their regular meeting and outlined the following work to be done on town roads.

A culvert will be installed at Sunday River Road and Monkey Brook Road; a culvert will be installed on Lone Pine Road; "dead end" signs will be put up at Joe Roderick Road, Monkey Brook Road and Branch Road; patching and bridge railing repairs will be done on the Branch Road; "children playing" signs will be put up on Monkey Brook Road, and "35 mph" signs will be put up on the skiway access road. In addition, a "stop ahead" sign will be put up on the access road.

The transfer of Marie Hickey (appointed by the board on July 14) from the Ethel Bisbee School resource room to the new composite room at Woodstock Elementary School was approved. Any action on the appointment of an instructional aide for the special education composite room at Woodstock was tabled.

The following personnel were approved for the 1986-87 school year: Sue H. Vedella, of Bethel, special education resource room, E.B.S.; Joanne P. Riley, of West Bethel, part-time kindergarten instructional aide, E.B.S.; Vernon O. Goss, of Oxford, grade 4, W.E.S.; Jacqueline M. Morin, of Farmington, grade 3, W.E.S.; Anne Corduan, of Vinalhaven, grade 3, C.P.S.; Vicky B. Myers, of Bethel, part-time special education secretary; Karen Bean and Linda Davis, drama coaches, Telstar Middle School; Louise Chapman, assistant field hockey coach, Telstar Regional High School; Peggy Tripp, non-instructional aide, Telstar. Any action on the appointment of a grade 6 teacher at Woodstock was tabled until the Aug. 25 meeting of the board.

The board approved an increase in adult education teacher salaries to $10 per hour for credit courses and $9 per hour for non-credit courses. The following fee increases were approved for courses offered by the adult education program: one-night courses, $3 (non-SAD #44 residents, $4); regular courses, $7.50 (non-SAD #44 residents, $15).

Board members not present Monday evening were: Darlene Hall and John Foster, Andover; Kay Chadbourne and Dick Crandall, Bethel; Gail Sysko, Newry.

The next regular session of the SAD #44 board is scheduled for Monday evening, Aug. 25, at 7:30, at Telstar Regional High School.

Marine Corps Pvt. 1st Class Michael S. Verrill, son of Harold S. and Betty M. Verrill of Bryant Pond, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force photographic specialist course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado. During the course, students were taught camera techniques, photo-journalism and darkroom procedures. They also earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

UMBAGOG HYDRO PROJECT

River would be drastically reduced. One fisherman asked: "How could you run a 17-foot pipe and still have trout in the river?"

Project manager Auth replied: "We don't know what kind of flow needs to be left in (the river to accommodate trout). That will be determined by the study."

The canoers and kayakers, however, want as much water in the river as possible and were unwilling to consider having any of it go through a tunnel.

Mr. Auth admitted that the river would, and should, have priority if there were a conflict between fish and recreation on the one hand and electricity and corporate profits on the other. He said, however, that there seemed to be enough water for both demands during much of the year. In the dry times of the year, flow through the tunnel would be completely curtailed, he promised.

And corporate attorney King said hopefully, "There may be some benefits to evening out the flows in the Rapid River."

James Yarnell, of Upton, pointed out that the average annual flow in the Rapid River was just 600 cubic feet per second. Given the fact that the salmon and trout in the river probably needed between 150 and 300 cubic feet per second of flow, there seemed not nearly enough excess flow from Richardson to Umbagog for the company's needs.

And that was without considering the boaters. The white water canoeists said they liked to have 1,200 cubic feet per second in the river.

In the middle of the discussion was Bill Grove, of Union Water Power Co., which is responsible for regulating the flow from the headwaters of the Androscoggin River to ensure that sufficient water gets to Berlin, N.H. A number of people in the audience argued that Union Water Power would work with Swift River/Hafslund for increased profits at the expense of the environment. Mr. Grove said his company would get no financial inducement for regulating flows by using the projected tunnel instead of using Middle Dam and the Rapid River.

Project manager Auth admitted he had few details on the project until environmental factors and costs were studied. But, he told The Citizen, "In concept, it's do-able." He said he put together the federal application in just 48 hours.

What prompted him to apply for the study permit was the fact that there is a 200-foot drop between Richardson Lake and Lake Umbagog along the four-mile journey of the Rapid River. If the force of the water rushing from the upper elevation to the lower can be harnessed, there would be considerable energy for sale.

Harnessing it would not be easy, he pointed out. To make the best use of the downpouring water, a pressurized, closed system was needed between intake and turbine. That meant funneling the water through a pipe or similar conduit. It would not do to place a 17-foot diameter pipe in the river, so the preferred alternative, Mr. Auth said, seemed to be to cut through Corey Ridge, owned by Boise Cascade, and imbed the pipe—three miles of it—in there.

The company officials, undaunted by the chilly reception to their plans, said they would keep everyone informed on the progress of their feasibility studies and would hold additional public informational gatherings as the permit period went on.

BOISE STARTS HIRING

day, spokesman Donaldson indicated that the contract could be changed. "We could supercede it (the implemented contract) with a (new) signed contract," he said. "There's always room to talk."

Management had sent letters to the strikers last Wednesday informing them that new workers would begin to be hired Monday and if they wanted to keep their jobs they should show up for work Monday morning.

The threat apparently fell on deaf ears. "Just a couple of guys," crossed the picket line, according to spokesman Donaldson.

A striker commented to The Citizen: "Everybody's pretty well standing firm until we hear what's going on in August."

Company spokesman Drysdale said the 350 maintenance workers among the strikers could be the first to be replaced. He said the company would simply hire a subcontractor to handle maintenance in the mill.

As for the individual workers being called in, they will be called in department by department, the spokesman said. An announcement on which departments were being staffed with replacements was expected to be made today or tomorrow.

All told, the company received 1,429 job applications as of the end of last week. They were still advertising for workers to apply in Bangor.

JOB OPENINGS LISTED

The following are job openings for northern Oxford and Franklin counties: Registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, babysitter, live-in companion, housekeeper, paramedic, auto mechanic, sewing machine operator, framing and finish carpenters, general maintenance workers, janitor, tractor trailer truck driver, data entry operator.

Also, dietary counselor, tannery general manager, waiter/waitress, houseman, cooks, security guard, wood-working shop hand, electrician, plumber, yard goods clerk, bus person, enamel tumble finish operator.

For more information on these and other job openings contact the local Maine Job Service office, at 35 Congress St., Rumford.

THE RAPID RIVER IS A FAVORITE OF WHITE WATER CANOEISTS, as well as fishermen and other recreationalists. They are angry at the thought that water may be diverted from the river in order to be coarsed through a tunnel to make electricity. (Photo by Steve Pohlig)

ABOUT 75 PEOPLE TURNED UP for an informational meeting last Thursday night in Andover to hear officials of the Swift River/Hafslund Co. explain how they planned to go about using the water that normally flows from Richardson Lake to Lake Umbagog to produce electricity. The audience was generally unsympathetic to the idea.

Boise power plant plan suffers setback by PUC

Boise Cascade's plan to construct a cogeneration power plant at its Rumford mill received a setback by the three commissioners of the Public Utilities Commission last Wednesday. While the commissioners approved the concept of Boise selling excess electricity to Central Maine Power, they disapproved the rates that CMP was planning to charge its customers for the electricity.

This threw the entire plan into jeopardy, according to Boise spokesman Sam Donaldson, because if the CMP rate is disallowed, the rate that Boise was going to charge CMP for the electricity would also have to be scrapped. "It looks like the project will be infeasible given the PUC's decision," Mr. Donaldson said.

Union officials said the PUC decision was the state's way of giving Boise a message to settle the ongoing strike by its paperworkers. Mr. Donaldson declined to speculate on the commissioners' motivation. (The vote was unanimous against the rate structure.) He said, however, "We were disappointed." Particularly so since the PUC staff and the public advocate had all recommended approval of the concept and the rate structure.

The project envisions building a power plant to produce steam from wood, coal and mill waste. The steam would drive turbines to produce electricity and then would be utilized in the mill.

As for the electricity, the mill would utilize a small portion of the amount produced—75 megawatts—while the remainder would be sold to CMP. The power would be sufficient to supply the needs of 80,000 households.

The project had already received all permits needed from the state Department of Environmental Protection, making the PUC's decision all the more disheartening.

said he would like anyone commenting on the report to focus on the following: "Are the recommendations consistent with the findings and are the findings consistent with the facts?"

It seemed that they were, as no one at the hearing took issue with the descriptive portion of the plan—nor with the recommendations, for that matter.

Steve Wight, of Newry, an avid canoeist, indicated he thought the plan should have devoted more time to consideration of the recreational value of the Androscoggin River. "The Androscoggin River is the prime recreation resource of the area and the town should position itself to take advantage of (its growing popularity)," he said.

Mr. Wight said he notices more and Boise spokesman Donaldson said the company's project staff would meet later this week to see if the plan is economically feasible under the rate structure proposed by the PUC commissioners. He said, "Based on our (preliminary) review, it looks very problematic." He declined to specify what the requested rate was or what the PUC's allowable rate was.

Even if the turbine portion of the project is cancelled, Boise still will go ahead with the steam boiler portion of the plan. Steam is currently being produced in antiquated boilers, using fuel oil, and Boise management wants a modern boiler that can burn various kinds of fuels. Mr. Donaldson said there are no plans to burn solid waste from surrounding towns, however.

SUDBURY CANADA DAYS

Kuzyk). Over 50 bouquets of wild and garden flowers graced the Dr. Moses Mason House for Saturday and Sunday. The annual flower show was again chaired by Barbara Herrick Brown and Gertrude Hutchins.

Also featured both afternoons was the annual historical film festival, which also featured a video of "From Stump to Ship."

Old-time children's games were under the supervision of Gordon and Mary Gillies. Overall best team in several events, including suitcase race, egg-in-a-spoon race and dodgeball, were Susan Crandall, Alex Gillies, Karen Wheeler and Amos Hausman-Rogers. Second honors went to Nicole Friel, Amy Bennett, James Dock, Lindsay Friel; third honors included the following: Tim Dock Leah Bonnama, Phoebe Hausman-Rogers, Nate Harvey and Bret Harvey. Blue ribbon winners in the sack race were Phoebe Hausman-Rogers, Leah Bonnama, Amos Hausman-Rogers, James Dock and Susan Crandall. Red ribbons were awarded to Alex Gillies, Karen Wheeler, Tim Dock, Amy Bennett; third place was achieved by Nicole Friel, Lindsay Friel, Nate Harvey and Leah Bonnama. The ice-cream eating contest was won by James Dock, followed by red ribbon winners Phoebe Hausman-Rogers, Leah Bonnama, Nate Harvey and Susan Crandall. In the three-legged race, Bret Harvey and Nate Harvey took first honors, followed by James Dock and Tim Dock. In third place were Karen Wheeler and Phoebe Hausman-Rogers.

The annual art show of local artists was again held on Ned Hastings' lawn and chaired by Helen Morton.

A wide variety of craft demonstrators and exhibitors were featured on Saturday. Among them were Robin Fraser, stained glass; Tim Korhonen, Bill Skilling and Willie Hathaway, blacksmithing; Florence Hastings, hooking; Edith Eddy, needlepoint; Elizabeth Lord, quilting; Agnes Haines, chair seating; Euphemia Hastings, needlepoint; Floribel Haines, knitting; Lucy Rogers, spinning; Barbara Herrick Brown, dried flower arrangements; Cynthia Mason, painting on wood and slate; Ruth Wight and Carol Crandall, quilting; Sue Laban, spinning; Basketworks, basketmaking; Sharon Hutchins, quilting and other decorative arts; N-V Crafters, calligraphy and woodworking; Ian Gilman, hand-painted birds and animals in wood.

The badminton tournament, chaired by Marybeth Bayerlein, was won by the team of McGregor Bluer and Craig Peter, both of New York City. Second place was taken by Don Lilly, of Allentown, N.J., and Chad Herrick, of Mechanic Falls. Third honors went to Norman and Shawn Jackson, of Norway.

Earlton Keniston and Ernest Perkins. Winners for the singles division were Art Henley, of Locke Mills, who took first honors, followed by Daisy Johnson, of Bridgton, in second place and Peter Nason, of Albany, in third. The doubles competition was won by the team of Art Henley and Peter Nason. In second place were Miles Millett, of North Waterford, and Alan Hazelton, of Norway. Third honors went to the team of Daisy Johnson and Bill Collins, also of Bridgton. Cash prizes were awarded for the first time this year and were anonymously provided to the society for the horseshoe competition.

The croquet competition was held on the society's grounds for the first time this year. Under the chairmanship of Charles Raymond, the event was won by John Payne, of Hanover, followed by Norman Jackson, of Norway, and Betsy Raymond, of Bethel.

The door prize of a set of four season placemats depicting Bethel scenes was won by Diane Johnson, of Songo Pond. Just as the afternoon events were drawing to a close, a downpour of rain effectively terminated any further outdoor activities. The log driver's bean supper was moved to the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room. Here everyone was served Norris Brown's special beans, along with a multitude of salads and pies. Special heavy-duty plates were provided by Tony Pugliese for the supper, and the event was under the general supervision of the head of the Special Projects Committee, Persis Post.

Following the supper, those present were entertained by the old-time variety show, once again directed by Ned Hastings. Featured during the evening were Richard Felt and Band, Carl Brooks and his dancing dolls, Don & Bev Chase singing special gospel music, and the Bedard Family Band, with Ned Hastings leading a singing of "God Bless America" at the end of the program.

Sunday morning featured an early New England service at the West Parish Congregational Church, conducted by Rev. Harold Wilke, featuring period music under the direction of Mary Valentine, who also assembled an interesting exhibit on early church history. In the afternoon, the flower show, film festival and art show were continued.

HOME-BAKED GOODS were sold by the Middle Intervale Meeting House at Sudbury Canada Days. Above, Arla Patch Sandstrom makes a purchase from Arlene Brown, while Sarah Stevens looks for another customer. Mrs. Sandstrom and her husband Don and their child Per recently moved to Newry from Springhouse, Penn. They are both artists.

Sunday River announces fiscal year-end profits

The fiscal year ending July 31 was a banner year for Sunday River Skiway Corporation, the parent of Sunday River Ski Resort, in Newry.

The area, established in 1958, is the fastest-growing ski resort in New England. Skier visits in 1985/86 increased 71 percent, with revenues per skier visit up 12 percent. The company saw a healthy 166 percent increase in ski-related pre-tax profits, and a 12 percent increase in real estate profits.

Les Otten, president of Sunday River, says the company's ability to produce quality snow and maintain consistent skiing conditions were the determining factors in the area's success. The ski area posted its longest season ever last winter, opening Nov. 16, 1985, and closing May 1, 1986, for a total of 167 days.

Snow will again be the major emphasis for 1986/87. The resort is adding 38 acres of snowmaking and increasing its pumping capacity to improve the system's speed and efficiency. With 220 acres of snowmaking coverage, Sunday River has the largest system in Maine or New Hampshire.

The company expects to continue its consistent growth pattern next season. A $3 million capital investment in the mountain, including two new triple chairlifts and five new trails opening a fourth peak, will establish Sunday River as the leader in Maine and New Hampshire in respect to uphill lift capacity. Sunday River's $8.5 million, 180-unit condominium expansion this summer will bring total accommodations to 2,200 on-mountain beds. Each condominium unit has use of heated indoor or outdoor swimming pools, saunas and jacuzzis. Since 1981, capital assets of Sunday River Skiway Corp. have increased from $1.7 million to $9.1 million. Skier days have grown from 41,000 to 163,000. Total year-round full-time employment has grown from seven to 142.

For the 1985/86 fiscal year, the president and directors of the corporation had implemented a profit-sharing program for employees. A total of 66 employees shared in the company's success this past year. Said President Otten, "We are a people-oriented, service business. Our personnel were voted friendliest in the east by 'Ski' magazine. What they didn't know is that they are the hardest-working, too."

Lakeshore owners trying to organize association

Owners of lakeshore property in Greenwood and Woodstock are being invited to attend a meeting Saturday morning, Aug. 23, 10 a.m., at the Woodstock town hall, to explore the possibility of forming a lakeshore property owners' association.

The object of the association, the organizers say, would be to help preserve the environment of the local ponds in the face of increasing recreational use.

Winona Chase, of the Norway lakes association, will be on hand to explain what their association does.

Tri-Town sponsoring variety show Aug. 16-17

Tri-Town Rescue is planning an evening of fun for all ages with a variety show, Aug. 16 and 17, at the Agnes Gray School gymnasium, at 7 p.m.

Northern Atlantic is the featured band Saturday night, with Lee Moore and the Country Ridge Riders Sunday night. Mick Miclon, Buckfield, will be the master of ceremonies and promises a little magic on the side. Debbie Irons, known for her Energize US program, will give a lively dance demonstration. Local talent will round out both nights with entertainment.

Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck and Snoopy will be on hand for the younger set.

Tickets can be purchased at Mom's No. 1, in Sumner, Trap Corner Superette, in West Paris, Tom's Custom Meats, in Bryant Pond, and at Snee's Music Shop, in Norway. The proceeds will go towards the new rescue barn at Trap Corner.

Kay Mason has organized the show, with the help of Kathy Burke and Dorene Benson.

By ARLINE BERNIER

To enlighten my many friends who read this column, I will present the other side. I am by nature and training so self-controlled that even my mother once remarked that I never get angry! I have the same emotions and feelings as anyone, but I show and express it far less than most.

On that sad Thursday morning my car was coughing and sputtering as it often did after a spell of rain. A mile down the road, I saw the dog in the road, which was common. She leaped across the road into her driveway, where she stopped and watched me. As I came abreast the driveway, she rushed, barking and chasing the car as she often did, but this time her timing was off and she ran in front of the car instead of alongside or behind.

In the split second, I had only time to gasp and swear toward the ditch, but could not avoid impact.

I went two-thirds of a mile further to get someone to return with me to tell the owners. My passenger had looked back, saw the dog get up, walk towards the driveway, but saw no people there. When I stopped, had my door open to talk with these folks, but was too shaky to get out, several men drove up, formed a semi-circle around the car door, yelled at me and, among other things, one said several times that he would kill me. When they were done with violent yelling and threatening, they returned to care for the dog. Shortly after this some friends arrived to help and I was able to gain composure enough to continue on my journey within half an hour. I got lots of advice, including taking court action and suing, but I know there's a better way to handle the matter.

Bancroft Company, which is building the hydro plant in Errol, N.H., held a party for employees at Cote's campground. Local attendees included the Mike Bergersons, the Joe Berniers, the George Fellows and Horace Goodrum and friend.

I went through Mercer and kept thinking, "Viola, who?"

TRI-TOWN RESCUE'S NEW AMBULANCE BARN, at Trap Corner, has its foundation in place. It still requires more work and more money to accomplish the work. The group is in the midst of a fund-raising drive to collect enough to finish the job.

Arts and artisans fair in Lovell Aug. 16th

The 11th annual Arts and Artisans Fair sponsored by the Charlotte E. Hobbs Memorial Library of Lovell, will take place on Saturday, Aug. 16, on the library lawn on Route 5 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or in case of rain at the nearby New Suncook School. A widely diversified and talented list of up to 50 exhibitors will participate including many of those most popular over the years with at least 12 new ones of outstanding quality all screened for this year's all-juried fair.

One of the most noteworthy of these must be Andra Bijnhouwer whose hand weavings use patterns of her own design. The Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C., has purchased one of her coverlets for its own collection. In addition to coverlets of various sizes she offers curtains, place mats and napkins and pillows using her authentic designs. Other exhibitors will sell baskets, crafted of select Maine ash, birch, and hand-woven and split reed; jewelry of gold, silver, Maine gemstones, enamel, and scrimshaw; metal work in iron and pewter; fine needlework including handmade and quilted clothing, handpainted skirts, wall quilts, folk dolls, stuffed animals and dolls, and miniature carefully handmade popular "Critters"; paintings and prints; paper goods, note papers handpainted or embossed, and paper cuttings; photography, various types of pottery, stained glass including lamps with bases and lamps with stencilled, pierced and cut shades; fine woodwork, custom furniture and restorations, and wood carvings, signs, boxes, frames and decoys, decorative relief carving and carved cypress knees. Other decorative arts offered are everlasting and herb items in great variety, wooden country crafts and folk art.

The annual used library book sale will continue throughout the day, and light lunch and beverages will be available. A display of early area items will be shown by the Lovell Historical Society. Sixteen items from selected exhibitors will be awarded to lucky ticket-holders during the day. Tickets for the drawings are already available at many area locations including the library and from members of the Woman's Library Club of Lovell, and will be sold during the fair.

Mrs. Sally Brindle of Center Lovell chairs the large committee of both year-round and summer residents who are working together on this community-wide effort for the benefit of the Lovell Library.

Little Teresa Inman observed her second birthday at the cottage of her grandparents, Maplewood, recently. Attending were: Mary Emmons; Clarence Reid; Gregg, Dixie, Audrey and Abby Inman; Milton and Eleanor Inman; her parents, Geoffrey and Heidi Inman and sister Heather.

Another little girl, Jenny Holt, age 5, celebrated with a dinner, cake and gifts at her grandparents, Leonas and Fay Holt. Attending were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt, brothers, Ricky and Danny; Aunt Ann Holt and Great Aunt Colista Morgan.

My callers have been many—so kind and thoughtful.

Doris Hayes has returned after a week in New Hampshire with her granddaughter.

Zilpha DiArenzo is feeling much better after surgery and is at home. Her daughter, Mrs. Jane Schiefel and two children are visiting her for several days.

Eldith Lang, West Paris, was a recent caller at Fay Holt's.

NEWELL VOTED TEAM SLUGGER

Alec Newell, of Bethel, was voted the Rumford Post #24 American Legion team's "Slugger Award" by his teammates.

Newell batted .338 and led the team in doubles (9) and RBI (19).

The Rumford Legion team finished the season with an 8-16 record.

Other local players on the team were Gary Williamson and Jon Clark. Gould faculty member Charles Newell was an assistant coach.

Finally to complete the day a benefit chicken barbecue supper will be served at 5:30 by the Lovell Volunteer Fire Company at the Center Lovell Church a few miles from the fair. Saturday, Aug. 16, would be a great day to spend in the town of Lovell with its fine old houses and many spectacular views of Kezar and the White Mountains.

Felix Otero and son are painting my buildings this month.

James Miclon has placed a flag pole in front of his home on which he will fly the United States flag and the State of Maine one soon.

Joyce Hathaway has returned from her stay in Massachusetts where she helped her daughter's family the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brooks took Olive Davis to Pomona Tuesday, Aug. 5, at Bear River, Newry.

On August 18 Franklin Grange is holding open house. Doors open at 7:50 p.m. when a musical program will be held. The public is invited if they like music. The first of September a triple installation will be held at their hall when the officers for 1986 and 1987 will be placed in their stations.

Esther Davis has been ill this week but is better at this writing.

This has been a rainy, miserable week; thundershowers and rain seem to be filling the first hours of August. We lost our lights on Tuesday—there was a tree over the Curtis Hill line.

Olive Davis was in Bryant Pond where she helped sell articles from the Historic Society table at the Senior Citizen sale. We are sorry and extend our sympathy to Colista Morgan who lost her husband this last week.

Sunday, Aug. 3, I went to Bridgton and went with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews and Lillian Harmon to Raymond to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert King where Mr. and Mrs. Andrews' daughter Gail was married to Kevin McGillicuddy in an outdoor wedding—and it didn't rain. A buffet lunch was served following the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wardwell, of Albany, visited Mrs. Helen Grover one day last week.

Mrs. Kitty Nelson and two children, Mrs. Sheryl Barnard and two children and Mrs. Eleanor Nelson and her two grandsons went to Toyland Thursday.

Ivan Curtis and family have arrived at their camp on Lake Keewadin for the summer months.

All who know Lucy Rogers feel very sorry for her and her family. The people of Albany have always been noted for their deeds of kindness and we all knew they would help out.

Mrs. Grace Nelson went to North Bridgton to see her doctor Monday.

Mrs. Gertrude Yemma went to Conway Thursday.

The Heino family, from Massachussets, are staying at their summer home for a few days.

Miss Helen Wild of Switzerland returned to her home recently after visiting her cousin, Mabel Walker and family. While here, she and the Walkers traveled extensively in New York and the New England states.

Ronald Snyder is recuperating at his home following surgery a few weeks ago. Barbara Lewis, Mary McVey and Peg Wheeler were hostesses at a cookout and barbecue at the Lewis home in honor of Mark and Ruth Boche and children, Ben, Jon and David. The Boches are formerly of Bethel, now of Fairfax, Va. Mrs. Boche was also presented with a birthday cake at the gathering. There were 40 in attendance, consisting of Forest Service friends and others from town.

Miss Robin Snyder, of Chesapeake, Va., spent a few days recently with her parents, Ronald and Gloria Snyder and Louise.

Scottie, Rhonda and Robbie Stowell, of Bangor, called on George and Harriett Stowell one day last week. They are spending some time at their cottage at Howard Pond, Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Inman attended a lobster cookout at the Inman cottage in Greenwood City on Friday evening. There were 13 present in honor of Milton Inman's birthday.

Ed Quinn was in Island Pond, Vt., last week for the unveiling of a stone marker near the railway station there. The marker notes that the Grand Trunk Railway was opened for traffic from Montreal to Portland through Island Pond on July 18, 1853. Ed was the driving force behind getting the marker put in Island Pond and was given the honor of unveiling the granite marker, together with a member of the Island Pond Historical Society. A large crowd turned out for the historic occasion, Aug. 2. Ed would like to see a similar marker in Bethel, which was an important step in construction of the railroad.

Peter Parent is making extensive repairs on his house. Charles Greene has painted his barn a pretty yellow.

Mrs. Miller has arrived at her camp for the rest of the summer. She hasn't been here for two years. Her many friends here will be very glad to meet her once more.

Mrs. Martha Holden and son of Bridgton visited her grandmother Friday and took her to the World's Fair. She said the exhibits were very good.

I feel sorry for the little pigs. Some get good care, most of them are seen running around hunting for a home. Two were seen in Lovell and one here. A very cruel sport, in my thinking.

Randy and Amy Tyler, of Chuluota, Fla., were guests of Denny and Rita Wilson last week.

Irene Wilson is home from her yearly summer vacation at Norway hospital and glad to be back.

Florence and Bernard Pilote, who are camping at Littlefield Beach for the summer, visited Joe and Muriel Gilbert one day last week. Also visiting were Russell and Helen Pilote, Portsmouth, R.I., his sister Doria Duke, Barre, Vt., his daughter and her husband.

Jim and Margaret Gilbert were up from Westbrook on Thursday and had dinner with his folks.

Joe and Muriel went to see Howard Gorham at South Paris Wednesday.

Leah Deegan worked at the auction all day Tuesday and at the tool auction on the week before, both of which were at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. Leah spent last weekend with Marion Soule, at Palermo.

Leslie, Nathan and Jennifer Moore are back from a two-week vacation with relatives in Connecticut.

Marc Moore's parents, Harry and Bernice, have been up from Connecticut a couple of times recently. This last time they were leaving on a trip out west from coast to coast and will be gone for a couple of months.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

We like to idealize our surroundings, the area in which we live. There are often things about it that are less than ideal, however. Writers frequently realize this fact and write about it. For instance, Edwin Arlington Robinson, one of Maine's greatest poets, was quite realistic about his homeland. He sees a sort of cold Puritan consciousness behind many of our actions. He realizes life can be hard in New England.

New England
Here where the wind is always north-north-east
And children learn to walk on frozen toes, wonder begets an envy of all those
Who boil elsewhere with such a lyric yeast
Of love that you will hear them at a feast
Where demons would appeal for some repose,
Still clamoring where the chalice overflows
And crying wildest who have drunk the least.
Passion is here a solace of the wits,
We're told, and Love a cross for them to bear;
Joy shivers in the corner where she knits
And Conscience always has the rocking-chair,
Cheerful as when she tortured into fits
The first cat that was ever killed by Care.
Be sure and visit the Woodstock Museum, "Where the Past is Always Present." It is open Saturday, 1-4 p.m. Thanks to all those who have been helping to watch the museum.

Andover

East Andover
By LAURA HUTCHINS

As I sit here getting my news column organized, a mesmerizing rain is drumming on the roof.

I was happy to receive a letter from Mrs. Richard (Norma) Plantier last Saturday. When Mr. Plantier left for Maryland, I had reported that Norma and the children would be leaving after school closed. At the time of their move I neglected to put it in my column. Norma, accompanied by her son, Troy, who had been home on leave from the U.S. Army for two weeks, her daughter Lynne and son Michael, left East Andover on July 9 and arrived at their new home in Mt. Airy, N.C., on July 11. Troy was able to extend his leave and spent an additional week with his family in Maryland before returning to his base in Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Norman White, Andover, Mrs. Plantier parents, accompanied by her sister, Sandy Delano, and her two daughters, Kim and Kris of East Andover, enjoyed a visit with the Plantier family at their new home the weekend of July 18. Norma reports that they are pretty well settled in. The children have made new friends; their new home is in farm country, is quieter than Main Street in Andover (!) and so far they like it very much. You are all greatly missed. (Norma says they get The Citizen and keep in touch through the news.)

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jones, daughters, Shannon and Calley Ann, accompanied by friends, Michelle, Ryan and Jennifer Gurney, all of Gray, arrived at his parent's, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones in East Andover on Friday, Aug. 1. They enjoyed the Old Home Day activities on Saturday. On Sunday they went blueberry picking on White Cap Mountain. They returned home on Monday.

Mrs. Laura Plawlock and children Joshua and Sara, of Bethel, who had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones, for a few days returned home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ramey, of Rumford Center, visited Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Jones Wednesday evening.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hutchins were brother Russell Yates, sister Viva Whitman, both of West Paris; and brother Tom Yates, from Golden, Col., who is in Maine visiting relatives and friends for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Adams, Robble and Karen, of Sweden, also joined us for a cookout/picnic and a good visit.

Howard "Buster" Marston, of Andover, returned home from recent surgery at Maine Medical Center on Monday, Aug. 4, and is reported to be doing very well. So glad to hear it.

The Ladies Aid Society members met at the C.E.B. on Tuesday, Aug. 5. It was reported a very successful sale was realized from Saturday's activities. A lady from Massachusetts received the beautiful dollhouse built by Bill Crooker and Phyllis Spaulding. A big thank you to all who were willing to dedicate their time and talents in making this sale a success. The next Ladies Aid meeting will be Aug. 19, which will be Fellowship Day, with ladies' groups of other churches invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hutchins, Jennifer and Justin, recently enjoyed a few days of vacation to Quebec City and surrounding area in Canada.

Miss Rebecca Gwen Hutchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchins, has returned home after a few weeks' visit with her aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merrill, in Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hodgkins, Adrienne and Joshua, of Norway, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hutchins on Monday.

I was in Rumford on business Tuesday morning. I had an appointment in Bethel in the afternoon, so went early and visited my daughter, Lorene Cobb, and children in Bryant Pond. After my appointment, I drove up the Sunday River road to the Bryce Yates residence, but found no one home. I enjoyed seeing the llamas in the pastures before I got to Bryce's place. They are an interesting animal and the variety of colors is amazing.

Miss Jennifer Hutchins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hutchins, left Wednesday, Aug. 6, from the Portland Jetport to fly to West Palm Beach, Fla., to visit her aunt, Mrs. John (Gloria) Donahue. They will leave Florida for Maine on Sunday, where Gloria will be visiting relatives and friends for a few days.

Many from the Andover-East Andover area have been blueberrying on White Cap. Bernard mentioned to my brother, Tom on Sunday that he planned to go this week. Tom thought he'd like to join him, so the date was set for Wednesday. About 6:15 two of my brothers, Tom and Lawrence Yates, arrived, and as the three were about to leave, I decided to go, too, along with our poodle, Gigi. We left the vehicles and started the hike at 6:30. I was about nine years old the only time I had been on White Cap before. At that time, Lawrence had a Model A Ford coupe with a rumble seat, that we came up in from Bryant Pond, then crossed on the ferry at Rumford Point. As we sat here at the kitchen table getting our second wind and a refreshing drink of lemonade, after our return yesterday, we concluded the trail was no easier to climb and none of us were as young as we used to be! But we had done it one more time and there is nothing like White Cap blueberries! Thanks to Sylvanus Glover for the lift, just when we thought we couldn't go any more steps. Today Gigi has slept most of the day after her mountain climb and the steady drizzle makes me feel like joining her. I seem to have muscles that are telling me they were overworked yesterday. Despite that fact, I'd probably go again if the opportunity should arise. It's beautiful up there.

I hope everyone enjoys a good week.

Last Friday I saw a moose with two little ones, and Saturday was out riding with Kathy Hanscom when we saw a baby fawn, still with its spots. Guess the mother was hiding.

In the report on Ben Gordon's cookout, Michael Gordon should have been identified as Ben's brother, not father.

OXFORD POMONA GRANGE

Oxford Pomona met with Bear River Grange for Past Masters night at Bear River Grange on Aug. 5. The officers were: M., Robert Lewis; O., Chester Hayes; S., Wyman Lord; L., Fred Judkins; A.S., Francis Conant; L.A.S., Hazel Conant; Chap., Glenn Chute; Sec., Gail Butterfield; Treas., Lewis Marcotte; G.K., Lewis Woodworth; Ruth Lord as Pomona; Flora, Betty Lewis; Ceres, Margery Coleman; Ex. Com., Adelaide Rhode, Ronald Coleman, Ernest Holt; CWA, Alma Abbott, Olive Davis, Lettie Brooks, Kitty Davis.

Bear River members put on a supper before the meeting. There were about 55 members present. Our honored guest was the State Master and his wife, Curtis and Marie Lombard.

An invitation to the reception of Anna Henderson and Lewis Woodworth on Aug. 30 was extended to the Grange members.

Two sick members were sent cards signed by the group.

The resolution committee, Lettie Brooks, Ronald Coleman and Francis Allen reported favorably on this article presented at this meeting. More will be heard on this later.

The program was opened by singing "We Are Here For Fun" and the Maine song, Lewis Woodworth "Old Virginis" and "I Want a Girl". Then two young girls discussed their love in a skit. Alma Abbott and Olive Davis were the young girls. Franklin Grange Orchestra then played some snappy numbers, which made people's feet dying to dance.

PANCAKE BREAKFAST

There will be a pancake breakfast at the East Stoneham Church next Saturday, Aug. 23, 7-11 a.m. Eggs, sausage, juice, coffee—and pancakes—will be served.

A stunt: walking on two sheets of paper. The two couples were Mr. and Mrs. Conant and Mr. Randy and Mrs. Jack. The men placed the paper for each step and the ladies stepped on it as placed. "Million Member Grange" by several members was read. "The More We Get Together" was sung. "Pa Joining the Grange" by Anna Henderson. Dot Canwell favored us with a whistling number. Richard Felt, Johnny Howe and Dot Canwell playing her accordion entertained. Ernest Holt, the oldest Past Master was called upon and spoke a few words for the Masters.

Our honored guests, State Master Curtis Lombard and Marie Lombard, were called upon and they spoke to the Grange.

The closing thought was read and "Good Night Grangers" sung.

The September meeting will be held at Pleasant Pond and the installation of officers will be the agenda of the evening.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

Eveline extends sympathy to Colista Morgan in her sorrow.

Doris Lawrence is gaining after her operation and she walks a bit each day. Susan Lyons and son Elliott are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bunton, at Peaks Island.

The Community Club meeting was postponed until Aug. 13. See you there.

Stanley Ukeukle and daughter, Portland, Conn., have visited Joe Kallowski for several days. He will take his daughter to Bucksport to visit her mother and he will return to his home.

Joe Vatcher has been blueberrying twice this week so Eveline was busy for a time.

Heavy thundershower at supper time Wednesday and much rain. The power was off Tuesday morning at 1:30 and again at breakfast time. They found a cracked insulator near David Broberg's barn.

Assessors for the town of West Paris have been in our little hamlet this week.

A crane with a long beak and long slender legs was at the edge of Joe Vatcher's garden Thursday only six feet from the dog kennel with three dogs and did they bark! When we came home from the hospital it had moved beyond the woodpile and didn't seem to be afraid. It was still here Friday morning.

Cornelius McAuliffe Sr., Fort Devens, Mass., visited his sons, Cornelius Jr. and Daniel at the home of their mother Rhoda Labbe.

Joe Vatcher and nephew Cornie McAuliffe went to Danvers, Mass., and got Mrs. Fannie Vatcher and they attended the Vatcher reunion at a state park in Andover, Mass., Saturday, Aug. 9.

Bike race in Gorham

The Town of Gorham, N.H., and Moriah Sports bicycle shop, in Gorham, will sponsor a bicycle road race Sunday, Aug. 24, beginning at 9 a.m.

The course is approximately 35 miles and will pass through scenic countryside.

The race will begin in downtown Gorham and take the riders up over Gorham Hill, through Randolph, into Jefferson to Rte. 115A and the Meadows, back to 115, and Rte. 2 home to finish on top of Gorham Hill. It is a tough course that should provide spectators and riders alike with some exciting moments.

The race is expected to draw between 100 and 200 riders from throughout New England. It is part of the White Mountain Bicycle Race series.

Notes from Adult & Community Education

SAD #44 Adult and Community Education, in cooperation with the Bethel/NTL Liaison Committee, sponsored a Community Futuring Workshop last Friday, Aug. 8, at Crescent Park School.

Attended by 30 residents from the towns of Bethel, Newry, Greenwood and Woodstock, the workshop was led by Ron Lippett and Paula Lugianni, of NTL, assisted by members of their Futuring Lab.

The workshop demonstrated a process by which data may be obtained regarding community attitudes, how priorities may be determined, and possible follow-ups for community actions. Data from the Aug. 8 lab was recorded and will be the subject of a future column.

A number of volunteers signed up to be part of a steering committee to plan follow-up activities. Anyone who missed the Aug. 8 meeting but who would like to be part of an ongoing futuring project may contact the Adult and Community Education office, at 824-2780.

Cathy Newell attended the Adult and Community Education Directors' Academy last Wednesday and Thursday at Sugarloaf. She attended a management seminar led by Dodd-Blair Associates of Rangle, a session on Project Literacy US, and a session on recertification course offerings for real estate professionals, as well as receiving current information from the Division of Adult and Community Education on state subsidy, staffing, and Bureau of Vocational Education re-organization.

There will be a weekend workshop on Women and Conflict on Aug. 22-23, with Edith Seashore and Jane Moosebrucker as facilitators. This is a special opportunity for area women to participate in a learning experience of exceptional quality. Lunch on Saturday and childcare are included in the registration fee.

Pre-registration is required and may be done by calling Adult and Community Education, at 824-2780, or Cathy Newell at home, 824-2089.

Arts council to meet

The next meeting of the Mahoosuc Arts Council will be Monday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m., in the Sudbury Inn.

More programs are being tentatively signed up for community performances. The Kitchen Sink Mime will be in town Oct. 5; Jim Scott will be here the end of October; the Mandala dance group will perform Nov. 22; and the Bennington Puppets will appear April 4, 1987.

Carol Fiske is looking for more programs for the winter and spring.

At the Sept. 8 meeting, the group will hear a report from Gordon Gillies on non-profit status, will plan promotions for the October performances, will discuss fund raising for the Mandala performance, and will elect officers and make committee assignments.

CROSS-COUNTRY PRACTICE

Cross-country practice for Telstar Regional High School's cross-country team will begin Monday, Aug. 18, 5-6 p.m., at the high school.

HUGHES - HOLMES

Tammy Sue Holmes, of Andover, and Curtis Dale Hughes, of Bethel, were married July 12 at the Andover Congregational Church, in Andover, at 1 p.m. The Rev. Marjorie Churchill performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Lawrence and Wilma Holmes, of Andover, while the groom is the son of Wilma Hughes, of West Bethel, and Marcus Hughes, of Germany.

The bride wore a white Victorian dress, with French lace sleeves and a two-foot train. She had a white lace veil and pink and white silk flowers.

The matron of honor was Christie Phelps, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Jane Head, Kelley Jordan, Jennifer Hutchins and Tammy Hall—all friends of the bride.

The junior bridesmaid was Heather Carey, the bride's niece.

The best man was Kevin Hughes, twin brother of the groom. The ushers were Brian Hughes, brother of the groom; Aaron Carey, nephew of the bride; John Wright, brother of the bride; and Matt Cushman, friend of the groom.

The ringbearer was Steven Hughes, nephew of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. The gift display hostess was Vicki Taylor, sister of the bride; the guest book hostess was Mary Hughes, sister of the groom.

The newlyweds went to Old Orchard Beach for their wedding trip. They will reside in Bethel.

The bride is a 1986 graduate of Telstar Regional High School and will attend New Hampshire Technical College this fall. She is employed at the Bethel I.G.A. The groom attended Telstar Regional High School and is employed at Stowell's mill, in Bryant Pond.

YOUNG MOTORISTS REMINDED OF DRINKING/DRIVING LAW

The state police remind young motorists of Maine's law to deter drinking and driving.

"State law requires any persons under the age of 21 who operates or attempts to operate a motor vehicle with a .02 (zero-point-zero-two) percent of alcohol in their blood to immediately lose driving privileges for one year," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, chief of the Maine State Police.

Weeks said the .02 percent blood/alcohol level may be arrived at if within one hour a person, depending upon weight, has one 12-ounce beer.

If a law enforcement officer has probable cause a person under the age of 21 has been driving or has attempted to operate a motor vehicle while having a .02 percent or more of alcohol in his/her blood, the law requires the person to take a blood/breath test to determine alcohol content in his blood. If the test shows a .02 percent or higher or if the person refuses the test, that information is provided to the Secretary of State who will immediately administratively suspend the person's operator's (driver's) license for one year.

If a person's blood test is .10 or higher, then the individual will be summoned or arrested for a normal O-U-I offense resulting in criminal charges, Weeks said.

Maine law prohibits a person under the age of 21 from buying or drinking beer, wine or liquor.

The bride's mother baked the wedding cake, while Lisa Jordan, a friend of the bride, took the wedding photographs.

MIKENAS - SMITH ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mikenas, of Amsterdam, N.Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth J. Mikenas, to Jonathan Burr Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Frothingham Smith, of Killingworth, Conn.

They will be married at the West Parish Congregational Church, in Bethel, on Aug. 23.

Ms. Mikenas works for SAD #44 as the district elementary music teacher. Mr. Smith is employed as a music teacher at the Poland Community School.

NEWRY LADIES CIRCLE MEETS

The Newry Community Church Ladies Circle met at a restaurant in Mexico last Monday, Aug. 4, for a supper.

Sylvia Harrington, treasurer-secretary, read the last meeting notes and also reported on the finances.

Oliver Anderson, treasurer of the church, also brought the finances up to date.

The circle made plans for a food sale to be held later.

The next meeting will be at Freda Robertson's, Sept. 2, Tuesday—because of Labor Day. There will be a white elephant sale.

Walking With Jesus Christ

The Lewiston Daily Sun, Aug. 9, had a good article regarding salt (sodium) and its relationship to high blood pressure—hypertension. It says "Who's watching my salt?" Children who never see a salt shaker on the table learn the flavor of foods as they are meant to be. "Most of us started on a high salt diet as young children even in infancy."

Now what does this have to do with our spiritual life? A parable perhaps. Well, the Holy Bible, God's Word, tells us many things, for example, Proverbs 22:6 "Train up a child in the way he should go..." 2 Timothy 3:15 "To make the wise unto salvation through faith which is in Jesus Christ."

While salt intake for us is a very real problem—the greater yet is our failure to teach our children things that would lead to a wholesome, happy and meaningful life. Jesus himself said "Permit little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 19:14. So, it is early in life that we should be teaching our children of God's things, as the saying goes "Happy the home where God is there."

Children are now entering a world full of evil temptations. Everywhere we hear and see the clutter of troubles—our radios and television bring false claims of happiness and sensual love. While our newspapers bring the world's news and some good articles they generally maintain a hands off attitude of the Bible.

Once there was Bible reading in our public schools—no more—the relentless pressures of Godless people have censored that.

Where then can we learn of God's promises? To start should be at home, but many of us do not know the Bible well enough to do that. Therefore, Sunday School is where there are loving, praying teachers trained—looking for children to teach. And Sunday School is not only for youngsters but for all people. Here it is that we learn that God loves each of us—that by faith in Jesus Christ, God's Son, we can have a real personal relationship with Jesus—being "saved," "born again" John 3:3 "For without this we cannot see the kingdom of God. Verse 16—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

It is a wonderful experience to be in a Bible believing church, where God is there, to hear the rustle of Bible pages among the congregation, in the worship services—both in morning and evening as well as during the prayer and praise midweek services.

Jesus said "Ye are the salt of the earth," "the light of the world," "let your light so shine," "don't keep it under a basket" Matthew 5:13-16.

R. CLYDE MORGAN

R. Clyde Morgan, of Greenwood City, died at his home on the Greenwood-Norway Road, early Wednesday morning, July 30, 1986.

He was born Aug. 11, 1907, at Greenwood, the son of Robert E. and Olive Swan Morgan. He received his education in the Greenwood schools.

He was married to the former Colista Curtis on Oct. 19, 1928 and made his home in Greenwood his entire lifetime. He was a farmer and woodsman and worked on the family dairy farm at Greenwood City until his recent illness.

He is survived by his wife, Colista C. Morgan, of Greenwood City, a sister, Mrs. Leonas (Faye) Holt, of Greenwood; a niece and two nephews. He was predeceased by a brother, Bernard Morgan, who died July 21, 1985.

Memorial services were held on Saturday, Aug. 9, at 2 p.m., from the Andrews Funeral Home, South Woodstock, with Rev. Roland Lord officiating. Inurnment was at the Wayside Cemetery, West Paris. The family requests that donations in his memory be made to Androscoggin Home Health Services, Inc., 8 Winter St., Norway, 04268.

Note: The above is a corrected version of the obituary that ran in last week's paper. The Citizen regrets any confusion from the error in the date of the memorial service.

CLEON E. PERKINS

Cleon E. Perkins, originally of Oxford, died Tuesday, Aug. 12, at the Ledgeview Nursing Home, in West Paris.

He was born at Oxford, June 3, 1902, the son of H. Alton and Leona Ordway Perkins. He was educated in Oxford schools. Mr. Perkins had worked for the Frank Rossi Construction Co. as a mechanic for 19 years. He was also a self-employed woodsman and farmer and belonged to the Fredrick Robbie Grange in Otisfield. Mr. Perkins had lived in West Paris for the past three years, coming from Oxford. He married the former Ruby Allen on March 6, 1949. She died in 1983.

He is survived by a son, John Perkins, of Oxford; three daughters, Eloise Vail, of Stoneham, Burnice Palmer, of Norway, and Donna Kinney, of West Paris; three step-children, Winona Perkins, of Oxford, Hazel Hudson, of Berlin, N.H., and Wilmer Elliott Jr., of Norway; two sisters, Cleona Tracy, of South Paris, and Florence Grover, of Danville Junction; 33 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren. Mr. Perkins was predeceased by two sons, Cleon J., who died in 1927, and Ned, who died in 1971.

Graveside services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at the Webber Brook Cemetery, in Oxford.

WILD PITCH: Toby Heath, one of the West Paris all-stars, hits the dirt to avoid a wild pitch in the first of two Colt League all-star games last Sunday at West Paris. The West Paris/Bryant Pond/Greenwood stars beat their counterparts from Bethel/Andover/Rumford Point in both halves of the double-header.

SAFE AT HOME: West Paris' Dennis Whitman beats the throw as he slides in safe at home in the first game of the Colt League All-Star double-header Sunday at West Paris. Waiting for the throw is catcher Kevin McPherson, of Rumford Point. The West Paris/Bryant Pond/Greenwood contingent beat the all-stars from Bethel/Andover/Rumford Point in both games.

All-star game climaxes season for Colt League

The Colt League all-star games, played at West Paris Sunday, ended the season for the six area Colt League teams. With the individual coaches selecting four players from their teams to go to the all-star match-up, the two sides were divided as follows: one team was composed of the all-stars from Bethel, Andover and Rumford Point; the other team comprised the all-stars from Greenwood, Bryant Pond and West Paris. The latter won both games, by scores of 9-5 and 4-1.

The Bethel team had earlier won the championship, defeating West Paris 4-2. The Bethel team finished the regular season with a 10-0 record. Runner-up West Paris finished 6-4. The other area teams, with their worst records, were: Bryant Pond (4-5-1), Greenwood (4-6), Andover (3-7), Rumford Point (2-7-1).

In the playoffs, Greenwood defeated Andover, 17-16, before succumbing to Bethel, 5-2. Rumford Point defeated Bryant Pond, 10-9, but then was knocked out of contention by West Paris, 13-4.

ARTIST EXHIBITS IN NORWAY

Area artist Toni Bjorklund will have an exhibition of her painting at the Lajos Matolcsy Art Center, in Norway, Aug. 19-30.

The public is invited to a reception honoring the artist at the Matolcsy Art Center on Aug. 19, from 6 to 8 p.m. The center's regular hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Lake Christopher condominiums get new owners

Joe and Louise Robiller's Lake Christopher Condominiums—adjacent to their Boiler Room Restaurant, in Bryant Pond,—were sold Aug. 1 to a Portland-based corporation called Lake Christopher Development Corp.

The principals in the new corporation are actor Bill Overton and actress Jayne Kennedy.

Former owner Robiller said the couple were frequent guests at his restaurant and that is how they came to take an interest in acquiring the condominiums. Mr. Robiller had only fully furnished one unit in the building and had not sold any. He said the new owners plan to put 13 units into the lakefront site and have already sold five. He said some of the buyers are sports and Hollywood figures.

In addition to now owning the Bryant Pond condominium project, Mr. Overton also owns a farm in West Sumner, according to Mr. Robiller.

The Robillers will continue to own and operate the popular restaurant.

Businesses and town get new assessments

Both the Town of Woodstock, and the businesses therein, received assessment notices recently. The town was told it had to pay $296,825 towards the school district budget, and local businesspeople received a new valuation of the personal property in their places of business.

The revaluation of personal property was conducted about a month ago at a cost of $1,500, with money allocated for that purpose by town meeting.

A half-dozen people came to the town office Tuesday to inquire of the professional appraiser about their increased valuations. Among them were Stowell's mill and Bethel Cablevision. The selectmen would not disclose what the valuation of property was at any of the businesses. They said, however, there were few complaints.

As for the money the town has to pay the school district, there were plenty of complaints. Selectman Clifford York said the assessment to the town means payments of $24,736 per month—$4,500 per month more than last year. Had the school budget increase not been trimmed by district voters, the increased assessment to the town would have been $10,000 more per month. "We're being portrayed as the ones who destroyed the school budget, and yet we're paying this much more per month," said Selectman York.

On other matters, the selectmen said anyone with concerns about possible radon contamination should contact the Conservation Commission, which is investigating water quality in the town.
